Carol Kortsch is a retreat facilitator trained by Courage & Renewal and inspired by the work of Bill Plotkin and Animas Carol’s work in the world is to create safe circles, and challenging opportunities in nature, so each individual and community can give creative voice and action to all that our wild souls deeply know.

What can we learn from the concepts and practices of artistic expression that lead to uncovering the beauty of our Artful Soul?

While one doesn’t have to be an ‘Artist’ (capital A) to attend this retreat, we understand that our soul has the capacity to experience an artful way of living and being.

How does nature’s artistry bring us home to ourselves and how might it also be leading us out into wild and unknown land?

Allie Kussin

is a retired psychotherapist and educator. She had a private practice for nearly 20 years and taught Counseling Psychology to graduate students. Allene now lives in Concord, MA, where her unpaid but hugely rewarding work now is with the local community arts center as Chair of their Board. She has a studio for her own artistic efforts, loves to read, garden and take long walks (and then there’s chocolate...)
